Salesfire

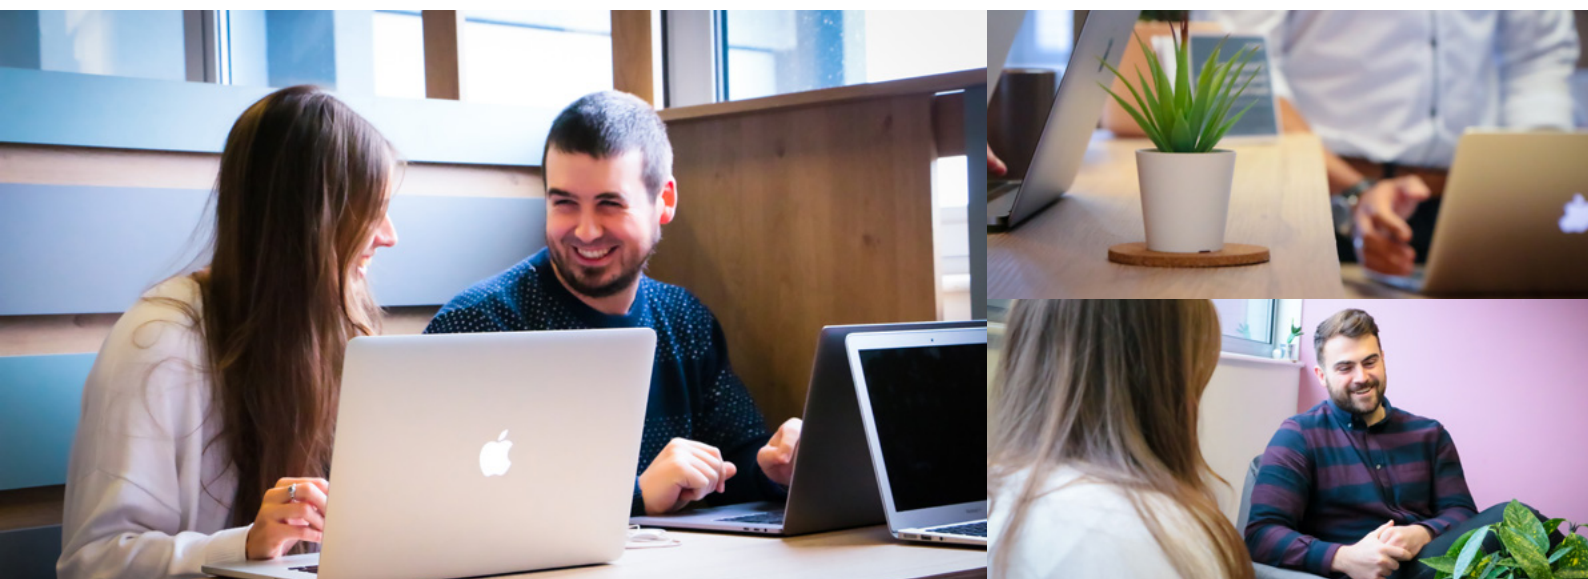

FRONT END DEVELOPER
JOB DESCRIPTION

About Salesfire

Launched in 2017, Salesfire is a Software as a Service company focusing on tools to help online businesses improve their conversion rate and maximise sales. We are constantly looking for talented individuals to expand our team and add to the success of the business.

Over the next few months, Salesfire is looking to grow our team in order to improve and develop our product offering by seeking a talented JavaScript developer with strong design sensibilities. We're looking for somebody with a desire to create interfaces that are a pleasure to use while maintaining a clean and pragmatic codebase.

We are based in the digital heart of Middlesbrough with excellent links to public transport (bus and train) and easily commutable by car.

Your Responsibilities

- Build new features into the Salesfire marketing website and customer dashboard
- Use the latest front-end technologies such as Vue, SSR and ES2015+ to keep our product up-to-date
- Practice disciplined software engineering (e.g. code reviews, writing clean and pragmatic code)
- Contribute to the front end coding standards
- Work alongside our design team to produce fast and easy-to-use interfaces

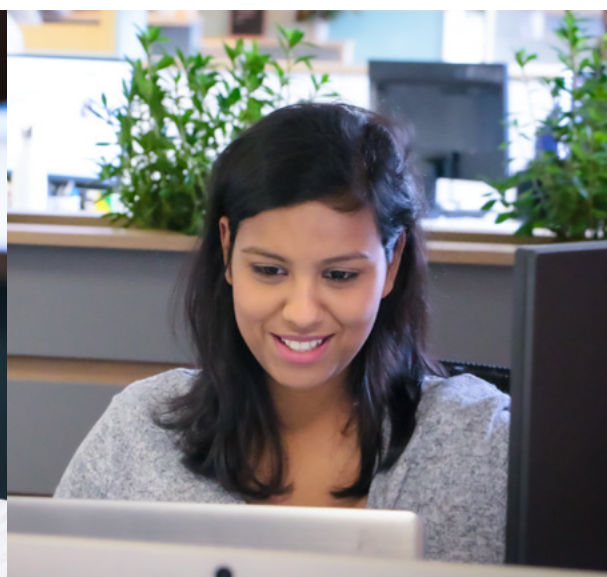

Desired Qualifications / Experience

- Strong JavaScript development skills, understanding of new ES2015+ concepts, and proficiency in Vue or other modern JS frameworks
- Experience developing large-scale application software
- Have full knowledge of the DOM, new HTML5 constructs, and CSS3
- Have experience with Single Page Application development
- Keep up to date with the newest technologies
- Develop features and create fulfilling user experiences
- A strong understanding of, and practical experience with, web application development
- A sincere commitment to crafting readable and reliable code
- An eye for detail and pixel perfection

Perks

- 24 days holiday plus bank holidays
- Pension scheme
- Flexible working
- A friendly and modern office environment
- Free fruit, toast and drinks
- Bi-annual staff parties and weekly Friday drinks
- And many more

How to apply
